Report:

Departments visited - GI Oncology Department of Georges Pompidou European Hospital, Paris, France (Prof. Julien Taieb); Department of General Surgery of Georges Pompidou European Hospital, Paris, France (Prof. Anne Berger, Dr. Thibault Voron).

My name is Nazar Omelchuk. I work as abdominal surgeon in Ivano-Frankivsk regional hospital and as teacher at general surgery department of Ivano-Frankivsk national medical university. Due to ESDO Organization I got the great opportunity to visit Georges Pompidou European Hospital, Paris, with an ESDO fellowship program from 24.07. to 05.08.2017

I was met warmly in the hospital. Many thanks to my mentor Prof. Julien Taieb (GI Oncology Department) and his colleagues Prof. Anne Berger, Dr. Thibault Voron (Department of General Surgery), who have shared their professional knowledge and experience with me and always have found time to answer my questions. The main goal of my staying here was to improve my practical and theoretical knowledge in the fields of GI and colorectal oncology and surgical minimally invasive treatment of patients with GI and colorectal tumors.

Georges Pompidou European Hospital, Paris, France is an ideal place to realize this goal, because they have the greatest experience in all France with operations in patients with GI and colorectal tumors. It's one of the largest medical centers in France. Each Monday and Thursday together with Prof. Julien Taieb I was involved in consultations of ambulant patient with GI and colorectal cancer. During these consultations we have analyzed outcomes of previous treatment of patients with cancer and have given recommendations for further treatment. My fellowship was very intensive and I've spent most of my time in operation department with a permanent involving in operation team. Again and again many thanks to ESDO for this POSSIBILLITY in my life!

New experience would help me to realize my big dream to become the best doctor for my future patients, implementing acquired new knowledge into my daily work and educated teacher for my students, sharing with them new experience. THANK YOU!!!
