Name of Fellow: Valeriy Vozniuk
Country of Origin: Ukraine
Fellowship Institute: National Cancer Institute Bratislava, SKR
Fellowship Host: Professor Tomas Salek
Date of Fellowship: July 4 - 15, 2016

Report:

I spent my ESDO fellowship at the National Cancer Institute of Slovakia. My mentor was Prof. Tomas Salek and I'm really happy to meet this person.

During my fellowship I visited all departments in Institute, such as diagnostic department, department of chemo- and radiotherapy, departments of surgery, department of genetics and, of course, biggest part of time what I spent in Institute I was involved in surgical activities.

Because of my interest in colorectal cancer, Prof. Salek show me all way of a patient with this disease in their institution, we have discussed possibilities of bio- and chemotherapy in Slovakia. I took part in multidisciplinary team meetings.

In OR besides colorectal surgery, where I assisted in open and laparoscopic operations I discovered a lot of new fields of interest which are unavailable for me during my residency in Ukraine. For example – HPB and gastric surgery and breast surgery.

In genetics department we discussed genetic types of Family Adenomatosis Polyposis and theirs influence to treatment tactic, this knowledge I will try to implement in my own hospital.

I want to say thank to prof. Salek who took care about me and help all the time during my fellowship and to ESDO, because it was great experience and I got a lot of valuable knowledge that will help me in my career development.

Best regards,
Vozniuk Valeriy
